

NCHS Courant

LXXIX • November 2011 • Issue 1 • NCHSCourant.com

Dear Readers of the NCHS Courant:

The school paper has become an increasingly online publication. Due to the electronic nature of news in today's world, we will be releasing the print edition of the Courant less frequently. Our website, www.nchscourant.com, allows us to cover time-sensitive stories and update these as they develop. It has also given us the opportunity to experiment with video journalism and other forms of multimedia.

We have not, however, lost focus of our print publication. In recent months, our graphic staff has spent a good deal of time updating the layout, and our new reporters have become strong members of our squad. We did not send out our typical subscription letter over the summer. In its place, we send you a complementary copy of the first issue of the 2011-2012 school year. Attached are the forms needed to subscribe to home delivery of the Courant.

We hope that you will consider renewing your subscription with us, and we look forward to keeping you updated with the NCHS community news.

Sincerely,
The Courant Staff
